

Housing Benefit: Payments direct to your account

Paying Housing Benefit directly into a bank or building society account

It is our policy to pay private tenants' Housing Benefit into their bank or building society accounts instead of by cheque.

Payments made directly to an account are referred to as Bacs payments.

Having your Housing Benefit paid into your account by Bacs has many advantages.

- It is safer. Cheques can go missing in the post or be stolen.
- It is more convenient. The payments are not affected by postal delays and you do not have to wait for a cheque to clear.
- You don't have the hassle of having to queue at the banks to pay your cheques in.
- If you would normally cash a cheque at a money shop, by receiving your benefit direct you would avoid having to pay commission.

If you do not have a bank or building society account, getting one could help you manage your money better. Unfortunately we cannot pay Housing Benefit into Post Office card accounts.

What should I do to get my Housing Benefit paid direct to my account?

If you have a bank or building society account, you will need to check that the account can receive Bacs payments.

If your account does accept Bacs payments, fill in and sign the attached Bacs payment request form and send it to us in the enclosed Freepost envelope.

Or you can drop it off at:
Hackney Revenues and Benefits Service

What should I do if I do not have a bank or building society account, or my account does not accept Bacs payments?

If you do not have a bank account we recommend that you open one.

Most banks now offer basic bank accounts. These allow you to set up direct debits and withdraw cash from machines, but do not provide cheque books or overdrafts.

Please read our guide 'Opening a bank account' for more information about the accounts that are available and how to open one.

Once you have opened an account you will need to fill in and sign the attached form and we will pay your Housing Benefit direct to your new account.

If you need more help, pop into a bank of your choice.
