2.

Mid-late C19 building of 4 storeys, 8 windows. Stock brick. Moderately low pitched hipped slate roof with 3 raised louvred ventilators on the ridge. Loading door on top moor in north bay. Plain casements. Inside the access to upper floors is by long cobbled ramps (now cemented over) for horses. The building is a 4-storey stable formerly used for London tramway horses. Lower part of building covered by forebuilding of 1 tall storey with glazed roof and continuous raised, louvred ridge ventilator. Arcaded ground floor now mostly blocked and covered in incongruous modern tile and pebbledash. Included for rarity value as perhaps the only 4-storey stable surviving in London.
